We thought it wouldn't come, but it's finally here--the new Newton North building has opened its doors. It was goodbye to the old building, to Main Street, the famous color system and the notoriously labyrinthine hallways, and hello to a brand-new building with a controversial $198-million price tag.

While reactions to the new building were mixed among the student body at first ("The hallways are too narrow!" "I like all of the windows." "It's too big and confusing!"), one thing was for certain: this building was truly different from its predecessor at 360 Lowell Avenue.

Good or bad, a new building means a new start--a chance for the students to claim this building and make it truly their own. And just because the building is new doesn't mean we've lost our spirit. Even though we're in a brand new building, we still have the same old Tiger Pride.

Derek Butterson, a senior, is wrapped up in string to promote "Eurydice," a play he directed in December.

Junior Katie Caruso and seniors Catherine Doherty and Michelle Cucchi watch from the sidelines at the Thanksgiving Day football game.

Tiphaine Kugener and Gabe Dreyer, both juniors, pose in their outfits for 1980s Day.

Seniors Lucas Webber and Molly Doris-Pierce goof off in the cafeteria on Beach Day.

whenEVER, Wherever

Over the years, we've learned that life at Newton North is never dull, and this year we filled a new building with our enduring spirit. The unique pulse of Newton North and our extraordinary student culture will be with us whenever we need it and wherever we are, if our building is old or new.

Goodbye 360 Lowell Avenue...

The 2009 - 2010 school year was a year of goodbyes. In June of 2010, a weekend-long event dedicated to "Bringing Down the House" took place. Thousands of alumni came back home to bid a final farewell to the brick behemoth that had been standing on Lowell Avenue for over 30 years. Main Street turned into a museum, displaying artifacts from over the years at what was about to become "the old building." Visitors signed the walls and took home old locker doors, then walked through the doors of Newton North as they knew it for one last time.

However, it would be a long goodbye to the old building. Demolition began over the summer of 2010 and continued throughout the 2010 - 2011 school year. Students sitting outside at lunch often got a view of the process, watching as debris was heaved out of blown-out windows. "It's pretty depressing to look across the football field and see an empty building where we all created so many memories," said senior Anita Sodder.

The demolition has a different effect on students who never attended the "old North." Joyani Ghosh, a freshman, said that since she never went to school there, watching the demolition is not as emotional for her as it may be for students who spent a majority of their high school lives in the old building. "It's going to be weird when it's not there," she said. "I'm just so used to seeing it every day."

This year, however, was a year full of new opportunities. As members of the community gathered in the shadow of the new building for the official opening day on August 31, 2010, the excitement was tangible. This event was exclusive to faculty and seniors only, and the special day was celebrated by all.

"Our principal, Jennifer Price will point out its many outstanding features, but I want to remind everyone that this beautiful structure is only a building," said mayor Setti Warren in a speech at the opening ceremony. "The school's leaders, curriculum specialists, dedicated teachers and parent activists...are the real secret of our success."

Once the black-and-orange ribbon was cut, seniors roamed around the building, getting a firsthand look at the new school. "It was cool to be one of the first people to set foot in the new building," said senior Olivia Martins, who toured the school on opening day. "I felt like a VIP standing outside waiting for the ribbon to be cut."

The event was truly special for the students who had been waiting for the new school to open. "When I first saw the new building at the ceremony, I thought it was beautiful. It was so clean and clear, and it had so many windows!" senior Emily Gulotta remarked. "I loved going on the tour, and having most of my classmates around to enjoy it with made it even more special."

Principal Jennifer Price, Mayor Setti Warren, Superintendent David Fleischman and senior class president Molly Doris-Pierce cut the ceremonial ribbon. ...Hello 457 Walnut Street

Back in the day

As we get older, we find ourselves looking back and reminiscing on memories of our carefree childhood. Back when the biggest problem we had in school was when one of your classmates didn't share the crayons with you. Or when half days were spent walking over to the neighborhood park in packs of 15 kids. Just a simple photograph can bring back loads of old memories: posing during a bar/bat mitzvah party, throwing up the peace sign, striking a pose, or just cracking a smile beside a buddy or two.

Even if the picture was taken many years ago, the second you lay your eyes on that photograph, your mind rushes to back in the day all over again.

SUMMER FOREVER

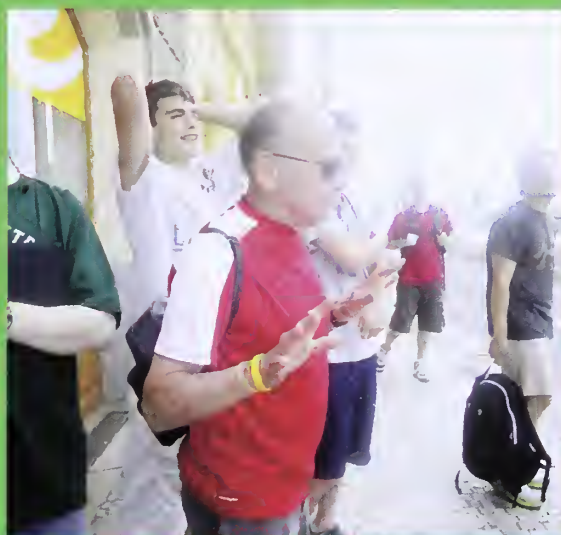

Summer is a lovely time of the year, when some take a break from the hectic school year and others keep busy helping others or educating themselves. During the summer of 2010, students from Newton North took on all kinds of challenges around the globe and close to home.

Meghan Pursley, a senior, spent a month in Malawi, living without running water or electricity. "I stayed in an orphanage called The Little Field Home, and taught English to 5 and 6 year old orphans," she said. "The experience was truly inspiring, and I hope to return to Malawi in the near future." Seniors Zach Knotts and Nate Newmark also traveled to Kenya and Tanzania to volunteer.

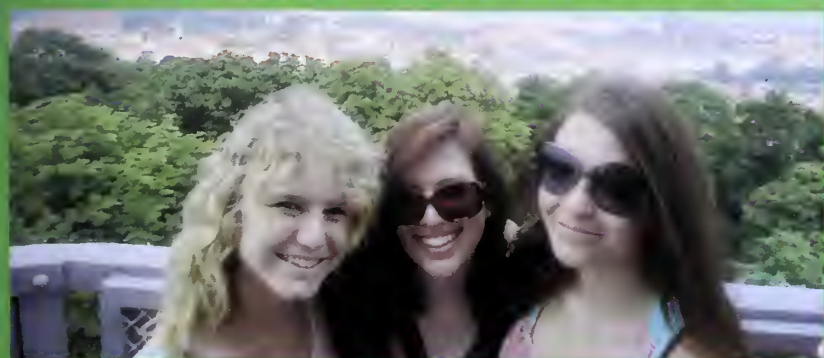

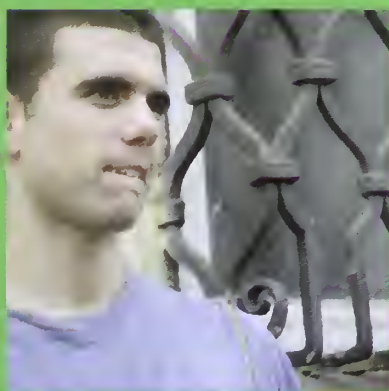

A Newton North summer tradition is the "Prague Summer" trip, in which students travel around Europe for three weeks, immersing themselves in historical landmarks. "I really enjoyed the trip, my favorite part was probably having time to explore the cities with my friends," said senior Jack Adams, who went on the trip this year. "It was also fascinating to see the history I learned in freshman and sophomore year first hand."

At home, senior Tamara Matama spent her summer interning for governor Deval Patrick in his campaign for re-election. "The experience of working with the Governor was amazing and educating," she said. Senior Annie Gombosi spent her summer working as an assistant counselor at Camp Chimney Corners for Girls in Becket, MA, where she had been a camper for four years. "Working at Chimney this summer was supposed to be my chance to give back to camp for all that it had taught me," Annie said. "Instead, I found that I gained more than I ever thought I would."

Here at Newton North, we have always been a special community: here, the bonds that we make with our classmates feel more like family. However, with a school that has been around for over 100 years, some students actually have a family connection here.

Some students are a part of a multi-generational legacy at Newton North. Whether graduates met up again, like senior Sarah Mead's parents, or if parents taught their son's chemistry class like senior Olivia Martins' grandfather, the legacy of Newton North families has endured throughout the years.

"My grandmother graduated from Newton High School, my dad graduated from the Lowell Avenue school, and this year I'm graduating from the new building," said senior Kate Lewis. "My family has a strong connection with this school, and I think that's really unique."

Finding Your Place

In the old school, finding your place in the community was easy. Along Main Street, the central artery of the building, as well as other special spots, students found ample place to pass the time between classes and after school. One of the most famous student hangouts was the senior tree in "purple" on Main Street, or in the library, where students could study or socialize. In addition to places to spend idle time, there were dozens of clubs and organizations for students to join and stay active. When the school moved to 457 Walnut Street, the question remained: how would such a vibrant community find a place in a brand new building?

However, the students wasted no time in finding a place to call their own in the new school. The seniors now hang out near the Tiger Drive entrance at "The View." Senior Mikey Bennington said, "We can see the football field, all the juniors across from us, and the sophomores and freshmen below us. It is a sight I see every morning and something

I will miss once the year is over." Although he misses the structure of the old school and the memories he had there, Mikey hopes that he will create lasting memories in this building and that "the traditions the class of 2011 creates will be passed down to this 'new' school."

Aviva Galpert, a senior, played a role in defining the new school when she and senior Edan Laniado directed The Skin of Our Teeth, the first Theatre Ink production in the new building. "After we had taken down the set, I thought about how many incredible performances would be rehearsed and performed in the space that our show had christened, and that was really moving," she said. "I love thinking that our play will be in excellent company for decades to come."

Truly the events of this year and the choices made by our graduating class will influence students here at Newton North for many years as they try to find a home in our building. Soon, it will be no problem to find a place to be comfortable at the new Newton North.

Hocus Pocus

Halloween at NNHS

On October 29, 2010 we proved that even with Halloween on a Sunday we would still go all out. No matter what you dress up as, Halloween is always a fun day at North. There is an unmistakable energy when you walk into school on that day; every trip to the bathroom or just a walk down the hall is a laugh a minute with all the outrageous costumes. When asked what their favorite halloween pass time is, sophomore Devon Phinney laughed and said "I had cheerleading." Senior Serena Accomazzi reminisced about her favorite childhood costume, "I really liked being Pippy Longstocking." "My favorite halloween costume was a witch," said Senior Nicole LaRosee, "I was a witch every year." Whether you're dressed in simple black and orange or in a crazy costume, dressed up with a group for friends or going solo, Halloween is a day filled with awesome costumes and tons of sugar.

how do you express

From the art studio to the graphics department to the stage, Newton North is full of places where students can feel free to express themselves with their own creativity. The students of Newton North aren't just students; they are artists in their own right. They design clothes that they wear themselves, write and perform songs of their own, and create remarkable works of art, and still have time to get their homework done. Newton North provides a perfect environment of both inspiration and encouragement for the student artists who express themselves here every day.

For student artists of all forms, their work brings to life their identity, their views on the world and their feelings about life. "For me, artwork is a representation of my growth as a person throughout these high school years," said senior Gabby McNamara, who is an Art Major student. Said sophomore Alec Mapes-Frances, a musician in the band "Common Illusion," writing music is "the most liberating feeling in the world." For some students, their art is the only way they feel comfortable with expressing their emotions. "There are some things that can only be said through song," said senior Kelly McIntyre, who writes and frequently performs her own music.

"The way you view other people's artwork and the beauty of the world around you really shows in your personal pieces."

"I write and play music because it allows me to express my thoughts and my emotions without any sort of restraint."

yourself?

"A lot of people view art as a form of self-expression. I view it as a form of self: sometimes you like it, sometimes you don't, but it will always be unique."

-Spencer Alton, senior

"I believe that there are some things that can only be said through song, so I plan on continuing to express myself through songwriting."

-Kelly McIntyre, senior

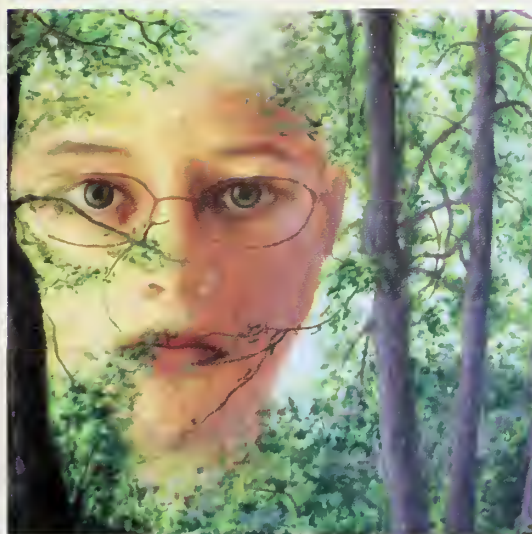

"Any given person can have an idea, but what makes that idea a work of art is how it evolves."

-Aaron Siegel, junior

"I hear music everywhere, because to have heart is to have rhythm. I release it through my fingertips."

-Devon Mychal, senior

"To me, art is another way of looking at life... Art is about seeing something in a new way, not seeing what you think you see."

-Nellie Robinson, junior

Lunch Beyond Main Street

Where do we go without Main Street as an option?

Lunch has always been a social time at Newton North, but since eating on "Main Street" is no longer an option, Newton North students have found other special places to eat with friends. Newtonville is one of the major options for dining. Taste Coffeehouse, Bread & Chocolate, and Great Harvest Bakery are few of the many choices in Newtonville, only a three-minute walk from school. "My favorite place to eat is Newtonville Pizza... The pizza is really good," said senior Juhi Patel about her favorite local eatery.

The courtyard outside of the cafeteria, also known as "the mall", is another popular place for students to congregate. As you step onto the mall, you are exposed to a whole new part of the new building's community, where people can enjoy some fresh air in the middle of their day. Senior Lucy Mazur-Warren is one of many who enjoy eating outside: "When the weather is nice, I love to sit outside in the sun with my friends. I love that there is somewhere nice to eat lunch," she said.

117th Annual Thanksgiving Day Game

One of Newton North's oldest traditions is the annual Thanksgiving Day football game against Brookline. Every year current students, alumni, and parents come out to attend the game, bringing their enthusiasm and spirit to the game to support the home team.

The game is always an exciting place to be, but this year it was even more thrilling: this was the first Thanksgiving game that the Tigers have hosted since the construction started four years ago, and the first one in the brand new stadium. The home field energy was insatiable. Said junior Mario Tavolieri, "One of the highlights of high school for me was attending that game. It was awesome to see fans of all ages go all out, it really brought the whole school together, and we racked up a big win."

Indeed, the Tigers came together and won the game, with a final score of 41-12. Although the weather was freezing, people came bundled up and ready to cheer on their team. The spirit was amazing and the game definitely represented what Newton North is all about.

Who is our biggest RIVAL?

Newton North's sports team all have a certain team which they are at full on war with. Every year, each team has a game against that one team where they give 110 percent and strive to win at all costs.

Our legendary rivalry with Brookline started with the first annual Thanksgiving Day football game in 1893. That game, over 100 years ago, sparked a rivalry so strong that it spread from football to the whole athletic department. That competition between Newton North and Brookline endures to this day.

However, Brookline is not our only rival; other sports teams have other teams that they strive to beat every year. Be it Newton South, Wellesley or Weymouth, Newton North athletes always give their all when it comes to playing against their rivals.

Boys Soccer

"It was a truly amazing feeling to beat Brookline, our biggest rival, in one of the most competitive games many of us have ever played in our lives. This win showed our entire team that all of the diligence and dedication we displayed this season had finally paid off."

- Gabe Paul and Jeremy Gurvits

Boys Basketball

"Brookline is definitely our biggest rival. People are always really excited for the Brookline games and the 6th Man always makes sure they are in full force. Our biggest game was last year. We battled with them all game and were able to gain the momentum in the 4th quarter and slowly take over the game. It is always great to beat them on their home court."

- Captains Avi Adler-Cohen and Tevin Falzon

Dance Team

"Our biggest rival is South. We have the same coaches and go to the same competitions, which adds to the fact that we always strive to be better than them. It's a friendly competition but they're still our rivals."

- Captains Nathane Lamas and Emma Leader

Girls Basketball

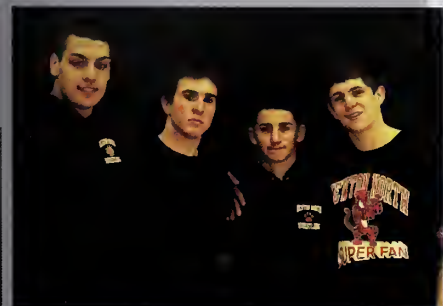

"We have a really big rivalry with Wellesley High School because we always seem to be pretty evenly matched and the games get extremely competitive."

- Captain Ella Scheuerell

Wrestling

"The Newton South match on the day before Christmas break is usually one of the biggest of the year. Both teams have good fan support and South has a great program so it always comes down to the last few matches."

- Captain Michael Atkinson

Girls Indoor Track

"Our biggest rival is the Weymouth indoor track team. Weymouth is one of the strongest teams we compete against, and we usually battle them for that season's Bay State Championship title."

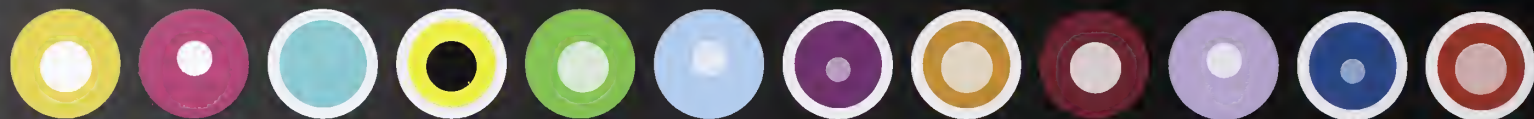

- Captain Katie Brandl

Boys Indoor Track

"As a Newton North team our biggest rival is always Brookline, but in track they are no competition. Our most challenging meet is against Weymouth who has a solid team. Although this team works very hard to beat us they won't stop our goal of a 15th undefeated season."

- Captain Ryan Donovan

Jobs and Volunteering

There is no denying that for high school students, money goes quick. We're on our way to being financially independent, often paying for gas, food and clothes by ourselves. To earn a little extra money to spend, some students get jobs.

Senior Christopher Rao works at The Finer Consigner, a thrift store in Newton Corner, and balances school with his job by working only two days out of the week, he said. "If I ever have too much homework, there is the option to cancel my shift, but I usually like to complete my hours because I find working to be an escape from the stress of school."

Newton North also offers a work study program for students in the career and technical education classes. Catherine Doherty, a senior, works in the graphic design studio work study program to create flyers, cards, banners and other designs for the Newton schools. Catherine said of her job in the graphics studio, "We all have fun there, but it is a lot of work. It's busy a lot of the time, and it's important to get everything in when it's due."

Other students spend time outside of school helping others, be it around the world or close to home. Senior Maddie MacWilliams frequently volunteers with Sub/Urban Justice, a diverse group of teens from around the Greater Boston area. Over the summer, she worked with the group intensively. "We registered voters and spoke to hundreds of adults about issues that teenagers face today, like youth violence and a lack of funding for youth jobs programs," she said.

TECHNOLOGY

The new building ushered in a new era of technology for Newton North. The library and computer labs were full of shiny new Apple computers and other devices to aid learning. Gone are the days of clunky projector carts used to project movies and slideshows in the old school: now, each room is outfitted with a projector, a DVD player and a new interactive whiteboard for use in classes.

"The Eno boards are great, because there are so many more options and so much more flexibility in how I can present material and get kids involved and interacting with the material," said English teacher Kate Shaughnessy, who uses her interactive whiteboard frequently.

Even though the school is just catching up to the times, the students of Newton North are ahead of the technology game. Students use iPods, cell phones, and personal computers to stay organized and entertained during the school day.

Junior Ben Hills owns an iPad, Apple's innovative tablet computer released in 2010, which he uses to take notes in class, record assignments, read electronic books and play games. "It's helpful to have all my information in one place," he said.

Senior Ellen Goldberg does a problem on an interactive whiteboard in her math class.

FASHION

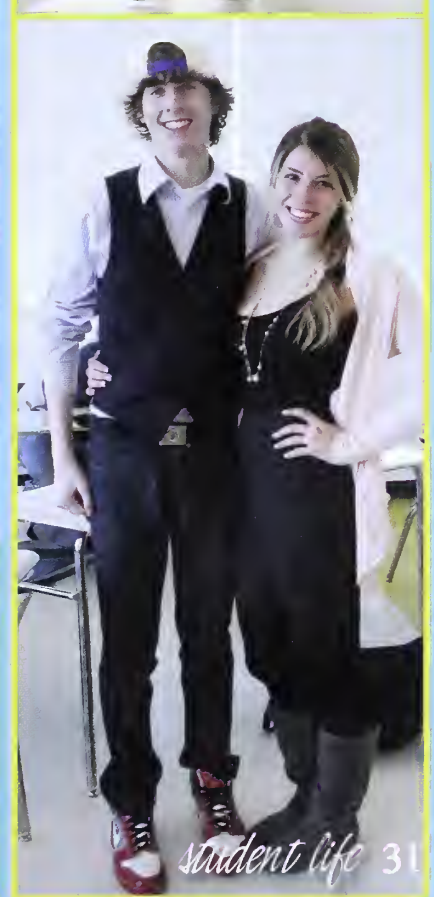

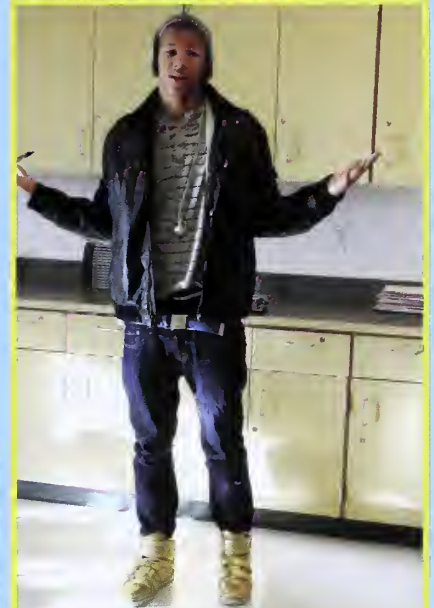

Styles are always changing, and from day to day and from person to person, what looks good is always different. Walking through the hallways of Newton North, one can find all different types of fashion.

Senior Christopher Rao is one student who is always well-dressed, whether he is wearing a favorite designer or some thrift-store basics. "Clothes are everything to me, and I always enjoy getting dressed in the morning," he said. "I like clothes that are comfortable and well-made."

Daisy Richardson, also a senior, has several views on fashion. "When I'm picking out what to buy or what to wear I remember two things: No labels and lots of layers!" Said Daisy about modern footwear trends: "Crocs and Uggs are out. Just saying."

Getting There

Students sound off on how they get to school

With a new building comes new problems with getting to school. Although a new parking lot opened up this year off of Walnut Street, these spaces were reserved for faculty only, and students who drive themselves to school struggled to find places to park without getting ticketed during the school day.

Some found spaces on surrounding streets or in a parking lot in Newtonville, but in the cold days of winter, these spots caused some treachery. "I actually think parking this year is better than last year, but I'm just a little worried about how I'm going to get from the parking lot to school in the snowy season," said senior Sarah Mead. "Not every business thinks it's necessary to shovel."

New traffic rules around the school also caused frustration for those who get dropped off in the morning. "When you're driving into Tiger Drive, not only is there no parking, but you can't take a left turn out of the drive," said senior Simona Gilman, who gets a ride to school each day. "It's pretty upsetting."

However, not everyone has qualms with getting to school in light of the new building. Said senior Jess Kramer, who gets dropped off on Hull Street before school, said that her morning routine is now "slightly more difficult, but it's completely fine." Rebecca Engelke, a senior who gets to school on foot, changed the way she walks to school this year, which proved to be a time-saver.

Senior Ezra Lichtman sees no problem with getting to school. "90 percent of the time, I walk a mile to school. It's a nice way to start the day," he said. "It gets me up, and you get to notice the wonders of nature that you would otherwise miss while cooped up inside."

How do you usually get to school?

- I get dropped off (38.5%)
- School bus (20.7%)
- Walk (19%)
- My own vehicle (10.9%)
- Public bus (6.3%)
- Bike (4.8%)

North's

Backyard

If you're ever in need of something to do, you don't need to look any further than "the 617." One of the country's most historical and exciting cities is only a few miles east or a few stops away on the "T," and it's bursting with things to do. The sports fan can head to Fenway or the Garden for a game. Performing arts lovers can find excitement in the Theatre District. Newbury Street and or the shops at the Prudential Center are there for those with the shopping bug. Even those looking for some nice scenery to admire while they relax can find somewhere to go, like the Public Gardens. In each neighborhood, you can find something exciting and new to explore. There is a constant pulse and excitement in Beantown, a city full of events and sights for every type.

This page, middle left: In the Charles River, which runs through 22 cities, many take to the water in sailboats or kayaks. Middle right: Boston Common and the Public Gardens are beautiful parks where outdoor activities are welcomed. Bottom right: On the 4th of July, the night sky over the Esplanade is lit up in a world-famous fireworks spectacular.

This page, top left: Quincy Market is one of the most popular shopping centers in town, full of eclectic shops and eateries. Top right: The Museum of Science provides fun for people of all ages with their fantastic shows and exhibits. Middle left: The USS Constitution remains docked in Boston Harbor. Middle right: The famous Duck Tours operate on both land and water, traveling through the streets of Boston and on the Charles River. Below: The various homes of Boston's beloved sports teams, the Patriots, Celtics, Bruins, and Red Sox.

In recent years, Boston has been home to the most successful sports teams in the country. The New England Patriots play their home games at Gillette Stadium in Foxboro. The Bruins and Celtics both play at the TD Garden, where the wooden basketball floor is turned into a hockey rink in a matter of hours. Fenway Park, one of the oldest and most beloved ballparks in America, is home to Boston's baseball team, the Red Sox, World Series champions in 2004 and 2007.

2010: A look back at the year's events

January 12

An earthquake with a 7.0 magnitude hit Haiti in January 2010. The devastation left an estimated 230,000 people dead, 300,000 injured, and one million left homeless. Relief efforts arrived soon after, thanks to countless efforts all over the world. Shortly after the earthquake, the U.S sent ships, helicopters and about 10,000 troops to aid the crisis in Haiti.

The XXI Olympic Winter Games were held in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada. Over 2,600 athletes from 82 nations participated during the games in events ranging from skating and skiing to ice hockey and curling. The United States took home the highest number of medals of any nation at the Games: 9 gold, 15 silver, and 13 bronze for a total of 37 medals. Canada won 14 gold medals, the highest number of gold medals won by an individual nation.

A BP oil platform exploded in the Gulf of Mexico in April causing oil to gush into the waters of the Gulf. The explosion killed 11 men working on the platform and injured 17 others. Before the well was capped in July, 205.8 million gallons of crude oil had spread through the Gulf of Mexico, making it the largest marine oil spill in history. On September 19, the well was declared "effectively dead;" however, the ecological effects of the spill still endured.

June 11-July 11

The 2010 FIFA World Cup was held in South Africa. The matches were held at 10 stadiums in 9 host cities. 32 teams from around the globe were selected to participate. In the final, Spain defeated the Netherlands, 1-0 in extra time, giving Spain their first world title.

unforgEttable crew

Though you come to school to learn, it's the people you meet here that keep you coming back. The friends you make here are there for you to make you laugh and support you; they form your unforgettable crew. Even if the building is brand-new, the faces of our community have stayed the same.

We are proud.
We are united.
We are strong.
We are TIGERS.
WE ARE 2011.

I am honored to be a part of the class of 2011, and so privileged to represent all of you during our final year at Newton North. Our class has experienced immense change, unimaginable tragedy, and incredible unity. We have come together in the saddest of times and in times of pure celebration. We have resided in two different sets of walls but still remained 2011.

We find ourselves now at the end of our Newton North career and at the start of something new--something different for each of us. We are at the end of an era and I am so proud of every one of you.

I hope you look back on your high school career and always remember your fellow Sen11ors. Remember the first person you met freshman year, remember the person who was just as upset that the library was "over capacity," remember the person you saw all the time but never met. Remember whomever it is that made NNHS home for four years. It may sound clichéd to say that the things 2011 will do for the world will be remarkable, but I mean it. Grab hold of the future, enjoy life, and never forget that wherever you go, you will always be a Tiger.

Love always, Molly Doris-Pierce, class president

Congratulations you have made it! Your journey through North has not been an easy one, yet you stand united ready to embark on the next phase of life. We hope that what you have learned within our walls will stay with you as you leave.

I know that moving buildings between your junior and senior year was not easy. I also know that what was once a bland, unlived-in building has come to life under your leadership. You are the first class to decorate our walls with murals. You are the class that claimed the view. You are the class that set the tone. We will always remember the class of 2011 as the class that first entered the new North.

As you leave us, please never forget the valuable lessons you learned here at North. I hope that the life lesson that "Learning Sustains the Human Spirit" will be with you always, as you work to make our world a slightly better place.

Thank you for making your mark here at North. Thank you for your leadership in all aspects of our school, from our stages to our fields to our classrooms. We are proud to call you North graduates.

Best,

Jennifer Price, principal

SENIORS

It has been a great privilege to work and learn with you. I can't believe our time together is quickly coming to a close. Four years and seven seconds ago, on Step Up Day in June, and on many other occasions, I declared that you would find success as you focus on the core values of respect (for yourself, others, and property) and learning.

As expected, you did it! Now, while you think about tossing your tassel from one side to the other to crown yourself a graduate, I hope you will take a moment to reflect on your time in Beals House and how proud you can feel of your journey. As a class and as individuals, you have been through a great deal. This school year you made the impressive and immense transition to our new building to become the first senior class and the first class to graduate at the new Newton North. Of course, you have faced many amazing academic challenges during your time at North and you have risen above your own personal struggles as well. Unfortunately, you have been confronted by the loss of beloved friends, faculty members, and family. As your housemaster, I am proud of the way you bonded together to support each other through the various ups and downs - big or small.

Class of '11, you will always be my first class at North. You are a spirited group and I will not forget you. Thanks for a great adventure and best wishes for your bright future!

Cheers,
Michelle Stauss, housemaster

When you build a wall, know that it will fall,
And when it does, do not cry, or begin to wonder why,
Pick up the pieces, and build it again.

Rebuild my friend, Rebuild.

God did it when he made the great flood,
Our forefathers did it, when they spilt their blood,
Rome did it, after being burnt to the ground,
Superman did it, in a single bound,
Because under the whole world's weight,
even a young man dies,
For all that you love, rebuilding applies.

JUNIORS

PARTY LIKE IT'S 2012

Dear Class of 2012,

Congratulations! You did it! You conquered JUNIOR YEAR. You should all feel very proud of yourselves, I know I do! I think we all had a great year, despite some ups & downs, we survived the monstrosity that is junior year; and we did it all while looking pretty fresh, standing as a class united! I truthfully believe we are one the best classes to ever grace these hallways, and you know we are going to prove that even more next year as seniors. I hope you all have fantastic summers, I will be seeing you all in September, when we finally get to be the big guys on campus.

Represent well for North and especially 012 this summer.

SOPHOMORES

Congratulations to the Sophomore Class!

You have successfully completed your second year of high school. You are halfway through this four year journey.

As you approach junior year, I want to remind you to continue to explore the many opportunities offered at Newton North. Next year will be filled with new challenges and hopefully many successes.

Best, Mr. Sanders

C L A S S O F 2 0 1 3

To my fellow peers, the spectacular Class of 2013:

Last fall, we began a new and exciting journey together when we crossed the threshold into the new Newton North and walked into our sophomore year. We are one year older, one year wiser and one year stronger in our friendships and commitments. Some things come easier now as we dig into our roles as high school students. It seems that each day we are making memories so vivid, that they will last us all the days of our lives.

Together we have achieved numerous goals in academics, athletics, clubs and theatre. These are goals that we can be proud of, goals that will propel us to a successful future, goals that have bound us as one great class and will keep us together as we move toward our junior and senior years. With passion, we will continue to set future goals that we will strive to exceed!

As we approach the second half of our stay at Newton North, surely there will be exciting changes and challenges that will come our way. I can assure you of one thing that will not change, is my dedication to you all. I vow to remain dedicated to you as Class President and I look forward to our future days ahead as the "Spectacular Class of 2013!"

In friendship, Carl Whitham II, class president

FRESHMEN

Class of 2014,
Congratulations on a fabulous freshmen year. As a class you have brought great spirit and energy to NNHS. Keep up the good work!

To the big one four,
We have had an awesome start to what I know will be an amazing four years of high school! We represented '14 well through sports, theatre, and much more. Our freshman football team played hard and had an amazing season and all you actors and actresses did an amazing job in Frosh Cab, The Skin of Our Teeth, Under Milk Wood, Curtains and many more. I am really looking forward to our next three years of high school because I know there will be countless victories, amazing shows, and much more in our future here at North! Keep on showing that Tiger Pride!

Mr. Grant presents his freshman English class with vocabulary words of the day.

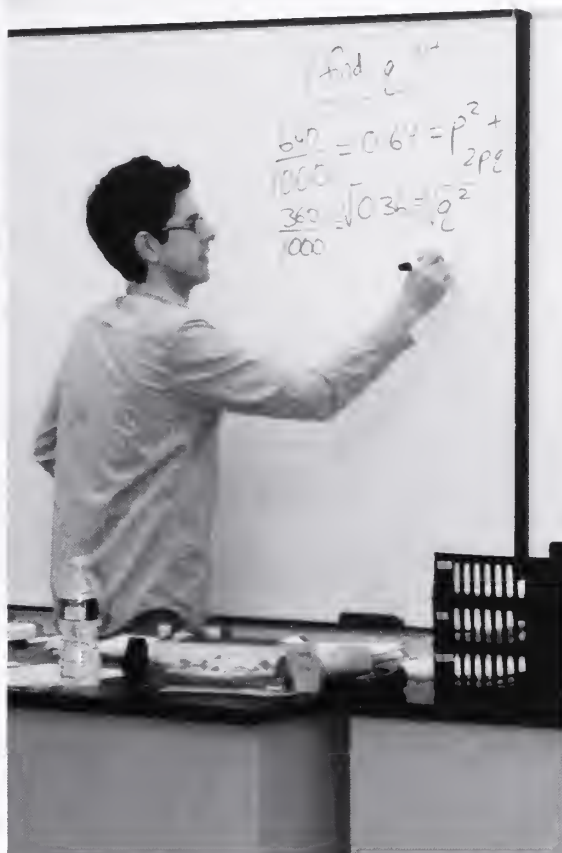

Senior Corrine Beatrice focuses on a worksheet in her SIMMS math class.

John MacGaffey, a senior, reads The Bhagavad Gita in his Philosophy as Literature class.

In the language lab, junior Jon Paul Roby completes a French assignment.

Mr. Snow writes a problem on the interactive smart board during his AP Biology class.

Caitlyn Kelleher, a senior, curls up with a good book in the library during a free.

kNowledgE & Wisdom

They say that learning sustains the human spirit, and every day students apply that motto to their classes. Newton North's students use the knowledge and wisdom they have gained in the classroom and apply them outside of school. Truly the lessons learned here at Newton North stay with you as you move on in the world.

ENGLISH

"I'm going to have to go with The Great Gatsby. I loved that book."

-Dana Gooley,
senior

"Walden. It says a lot of things that people think, but don't often say."

-Derek Butterson,
senior

Freshman English class is about getting used to the expectations of high school classes. Of Mice and Men, Romeo & Juliet and Catcher in the Rye are among the literature we read and discuss. Students learn analytical skills that they will carry with them for years.

Sophomore year, well into the swing of high school, we prepare for the English MCAS. Books on the sophomore year reading list include Macbeth, Oedipus Rex and many others. Sophomores also write personal essays about their heroes in a unit about Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. and can enter their essays in a class-wide contest.

Junior year English is about working on advancing your writing and progressing in your reading. To tie in with the junior US history curriculum, we read books from prolific American authors. These titles include Huckleberry Finn, The Scarlet Letter and A Streetcar Named Desire. Students are held to higher expectations in terms of analyzing literature.

Looking through the course catalogue in March of junior year is an exciting time. As a senior, you can take the English class that interests you. In regular English classes, students read the Shakespearean tragedy Hamlet and work on college essays. Others can decide to take an English elective: perhaps Art and Technique of Film, Hip-Hop, Short Story, or Creative Writing. During senior year, it's finally your choice.

Ms. Kim Parker

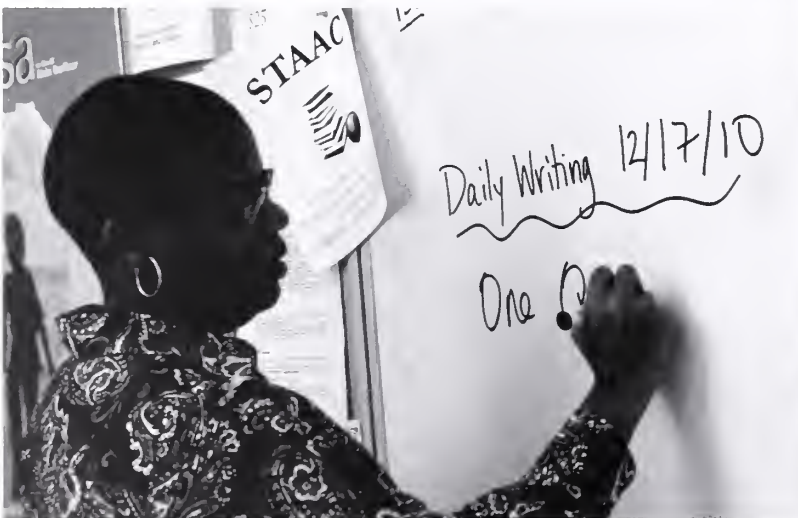

Q: Where did you go to school?

K.P.: Colby College, Boston College, and University of Illinois Urbana Champaign

Q: What is your favorite book to teach?

K.P.: Romeo & Juliet.

New teachers in the English Department

Ms. Parker writes out the daily agenda for her freshman English class.

Ms. Maureen Kavanaugh

Q: Where did you go to school?

M.K.: College of the Holy Cross

Q: What is your favorite book to teach?

M.K.: The Great Gatsby.

What was your favorite book you read in class?

"Of Mice and Men. I liked it. It was one of the books that I actually read."

-Caleb Gannon, senior

"The Things They Carried. It's quite possibly the best piece of literature about war that I've ever read."

-Marena Cole, senior

HISTORY

"I'm obsessed with the Civil War."

-Philip Halin,
senior

"Ancient history,
because it's more interesting and diverse than U.S.
history."

-Marcus Parker,
senior

For the first two years of high school, we study world history. Freshman year we study the ancient world, such as the Roman Empire, Africa civilizations and monotheistic religions and finish with the Enlightenment and the French Revolution. Sophomore year starts where we left off the year before, finishing with World War II and the start of the Cold War. Sophomores can also elect to take Close-Up, a seminar in government, and travel to Washington, D.C., for a week of on-site learning about our government.

As we move on to junior year, we study American History, including the changing role of the federal government, and the United States' position in the world. Juniors write their junior thesis, which are intensive projects on the subject of the student's choosing. We end the year with a more intensive study of the Cold War.

Like a few other senior courses, History is an elective. Once you are a senior, you can decide whether or not to even take history. If you decide to take it, there are many electives to choose from, ranging all across the spectrum of social sciences. Some examples are Psychology, Modern European History, East Asia, Africa and the New World, Law & Society, Ethics and Economics.

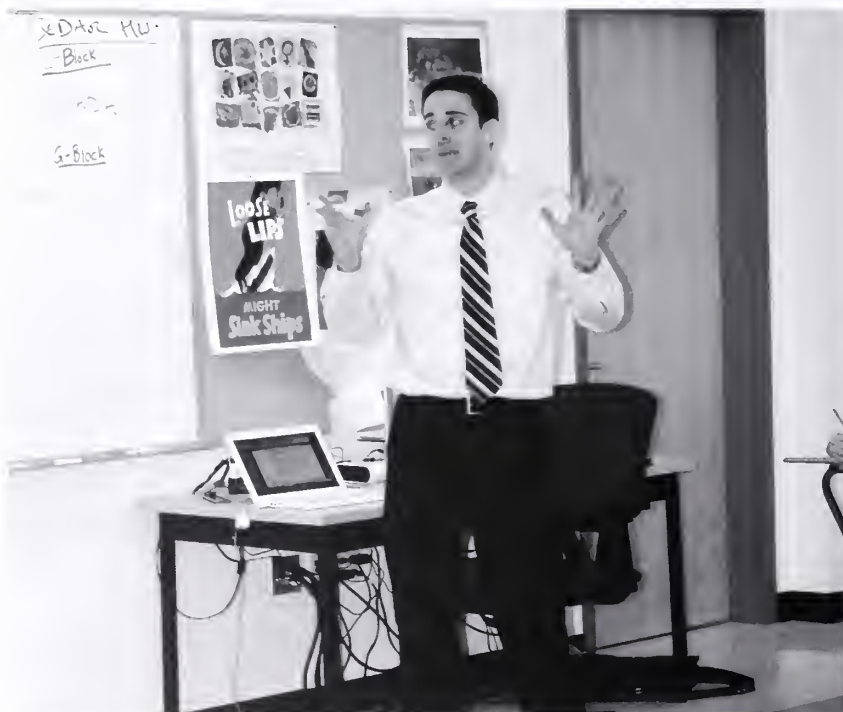

Ms. Emily Hartz

"Emily Hartz brings a youthful energy and knowledge of teaching technology to the NNHS history department. She's been a great addition to a strong department." - Mr. Jonathan Bassett, History Dept. Head

Q: What college did you attend?
E.H.: Smith College.

Q: What is your favorite topic to teach?
E.H.: Religions, because my students seem most interested in them.

Q: What is your favorite thing about teaching in the new NNHS?
E.H.: The technology! I love having the projector and Eno board in my classroom, and I use it every day.

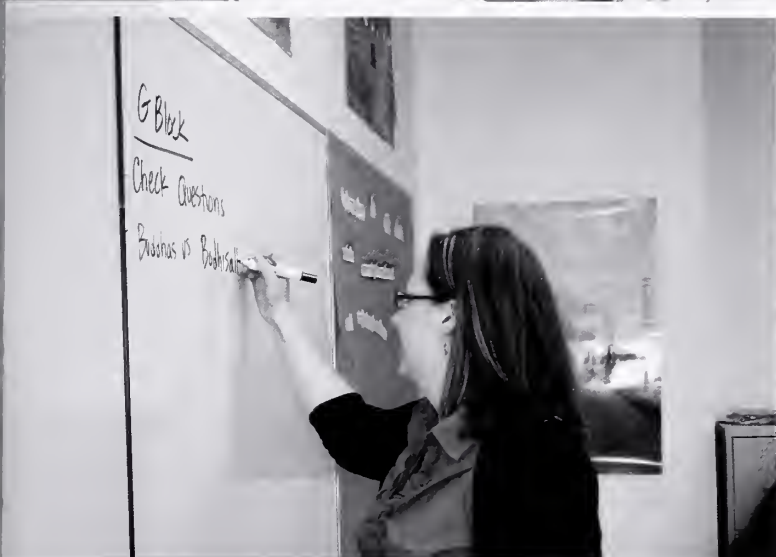

Bottom left: Mr. Bedar explains the homework to his sophomore modern world history class.

What's your favorite historical time period?

"I think American History was my favorite, because it's our own background."
-Andrea Marzilli, senior

"My favorite unit was U.S. history, because it's cool to learn about your own country's roots."
-Sam Melnick, senior

SCIENCE

"I would have to say Biology. Mama's favorite topic in Bio was genetics."
-Tamara Matama, senior

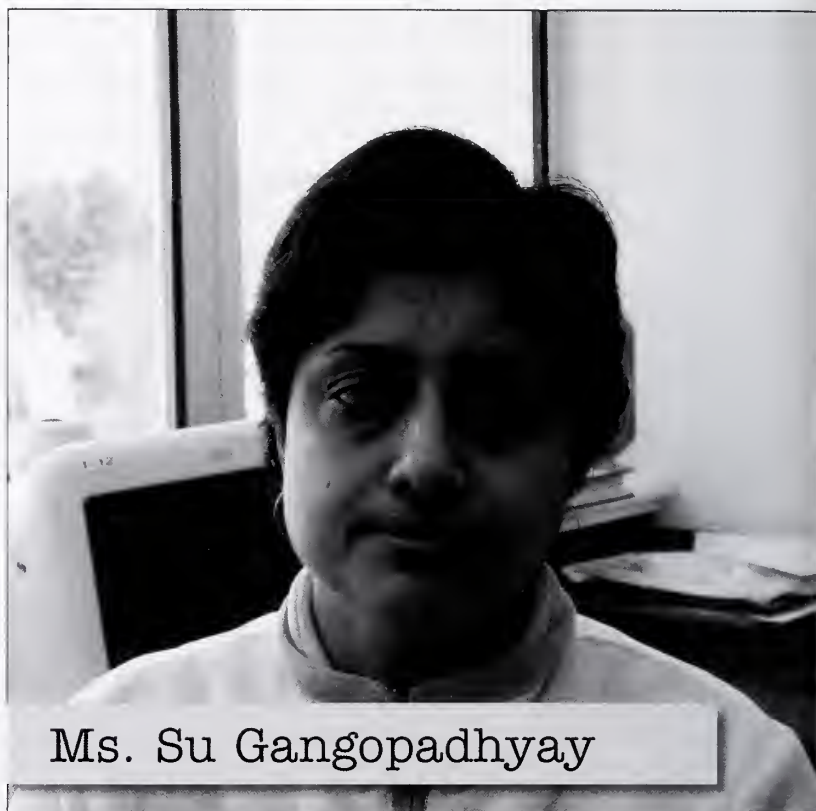

"My favorite class of science was Bio because I enjoyed learning about the human body."
-Taylor Sweeney, senior

For science during freshman year, we study Physics. Some memorable labs we completed are the bottle rocket and the egg drop, where students create contraptions that can be dropped without breaking the egg inside. We learn about velocity, speed, and time among other topics to prepare for the science MCAS test.

Then sophomore year, we study Chemistry, where we learn about the different elements on the periodic table. As we learn about these elements we figure out how to balance the equations based on the atomic mass and secondary numbers. One memorable lab involved wafting a mystery solution and using your tools to figure out what they were.

Junior year is Biology, where we study the life of different animals, plants, and humans. Labs ranged from observing different cells types under a microscope, to genetics of a human being. Students can elect to take AP Bio or AP Chem during junior year for an extra challenge.

Then you get to senior year, we get to choose whether or not we take a science class. A few science options are Anatomy & Physiology, Oceanography, as well as the AP courses. We choose what we are interested in, it could be something we want to do when we are older, or something that just pulls us in out of pure intrigue.

Ms. Su Gangopadhyay

"Ms. Gangopadhyay's amazing content knowledge of human anatomy and physiology has made her an awesome addition to the teaching team for our Anatomy & Physiology course. Su has been our department aide for a long time and very few folks knew about her PhD in Physiology. The science teachers all now have a better appreciation of Su's talents and they are better able to use her as a powerful resource. Su is a fabulous anatomy teacher and does a wonderful job of connecting every piece of new content to her students' personal lives and experiences." - Amy Winston, Science Dept. Head

Q: Where did you attend college?
S.G.: Calcutta, India.

Q: What is your favorite unit to teach?
S.G.: Human physiology.

Q: What is your favorite part of teaching at NNHS?
S.G.: The people are so friendly and willing to help you.

Seniors Alex Graf and Lucas Webber work together on a science problem in Mr. Snow's AP biology class.

What was your favorite science class?

"Biology. The curriculum covered such a wide variety of material."

-David Gore,
senior

"My favorite class was chemistry, because I liked all the labs."

-Megan Gentile,
senior

M A T H E M A T I C S

"Calculus is fun. It's like solving a puzzle."

-Nuala O'Donovan, senior

"I love SIMMS...now."

-Jack McLaughlin, senior

During freshman year of high school, we have a choice. We can either be in SIMMS, a hands on math class, or a course that fits our learning style, be it fast-paced honors math, or a slower-paced math class. Once you choose the course that best suits you, we work on topics such as probability, surface area, and real numbers.

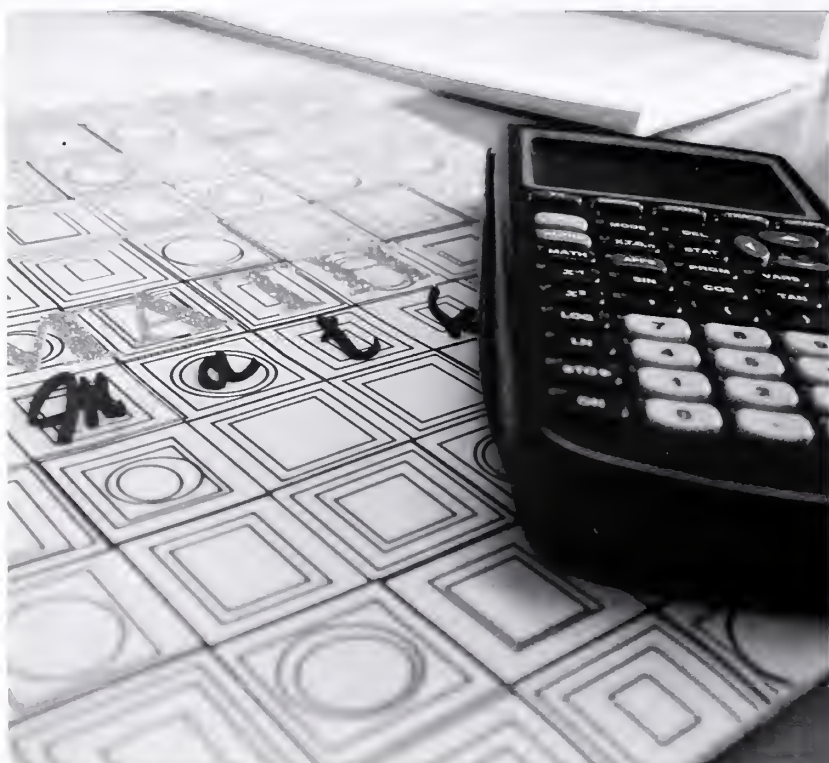

Sophomore year math is mostly geometry. We worked on solving for circles and triangles, and area and perimeter word problems. The sophomore year math curriculum builds up to the math MCAS test in May.

Junior year in math is about parabolas and graphing. We worked on solving word problems about how long it would take Bobby and Susie to mow the lawn if they worked on it together. We also learned trigonometry and the all important SOH-CAH-TOA.

Should seniors decide to continue with math in their last year of high school, they move on to pre-calculus or calculus courses. During the year we learned more trigonometry, more graphing, and some new ways of going about old problems. A stand-out senior year problem is the ferris wheel word problem.

Ms. Anna McKenzie

"Anna McKenzie is a wonderful addition to the math department at Newton North. She loves teaching, loves math and really enjoys her students. She is a generous colleague with a great sense of humor. There is also some suspicion that she sleeps here because she is the last one out every night and the first one in, in the morning. Welcome to Anna!" - Cindy Bergan, Math Dept. Head

Q: What College did you attend?

A.M.: Georgetown University (undergraduate) and Boston University (master's)

Q: What is your favorite unit to teach?

A.M.: Exponential equations.

Q: What is your favorite thing about working at Newton North?

A.M.: In general, watching students develop their problem solving abilities. The best part of my day, however, is simply working with the incredible entertaining students of the NNHS community.

What do you like most about math class?

"Statistics is fun, because Mr. Stanley makes it fun."

-Anita Sodder, senior

"I love SIMMS because of the real world curriculum and I got to work with the same amazing people for 4 years."

-Molly Doris-Pierce, senior

WORLD LANGUAGE

"I chose Italian because my family is from Italy, and I always wanted to go there."

-Callie Corbett, senior

"My family goes to Italy frequently, so studying Italian seemed like a logical choice."

-Ezra Lichtman, senior

When we enter Newton North as freshmen, we can either continue with the language that we started in middle school or choose a new language to study. You can choose from Spanish, Chinese, Italian, Latin, French or American Sign Language. We are lucky to have so many choices and options for the levels you can take.

One of the exciting things about studying a language is the opportunity to go on an exchange to either France, Mexico, Spain, Italy or China. The foreign students come here for several weeks and stay with you, and in return, you go to their country and live with their family. It is a great learning experience and you come back with a whole new understanding of the language and culture.

Latin is now a rare language to see in a high school, but those who opt to study it are privileged with a new appreciation of the root of all romance languages. Chinese is also an unusual language to study in high school; however, it is a popular choice among students at Newton North. We are fortunate to have so many options when it comes to studying language here.

Mr. Dan Fabrizio

Q: What college did you attend?

D.F.: Boston College.

Q: What is your favorite unit to teach?

D.F.: Celebrations in Spanish 2 curriculum 1.

Mr. Chris Wood

Q: What college did you attend?

C.W.: Columbia University.

Q: What is your favorite unit to teach?

C.W.: I love to teach subjunctives.

Ms. Margot Murphy

Q: What college did you attend?

M.M.: Connecticut College, Middlebury, and Tufts.

Q: What is your favorite unit to teach?

M.M.: I like to teach the book Petit Nicolas.

Why did you pick the language your studying?

"I picked Chinese because I want to reconnect with my grandparents who speak Chinese."

-Peter Wu,
senior

"I chose French because I thought it was pretty, but Spanish is a good way to access service opportunities."

-Aviva Galpert,
senior

FINE & PERFORMING ARTS

"I like that we have the opportunity to take so many types of music classes."

-Annie Gombosi, senior

"I like ceramics because it's a relaxing class, and Mrs. Slattery is a really cool teacher."

-Devika Banerjee, senior

We are provided with many unique opportunities at Newton North; many of these opportunities are in the Fine & Performing Arts department. The photography, art, music and theatre courses at Newton North become more popular every year.

Photography is a class for students who are interested in capturing their surroundings, such as their family, friends, and wild life through the lens.

Music is also a good way for students to express themselves. The extensive music department includes instrumental groups, like Wind Ensemble and Symphonic Band, and vocal groups such as Jubilee and Family Singers. There are also courses in music appreciation and Music Theory for those looking to hone their musical skills.

Art is a way for students to show how they view themselves and others. Art is a great way to show a student's creativity with different styles of paintings, colors, and textures. Art classes include projects in several different mediums, including 2-D pieces as well as ceramics and other 3-D works.

Mr. Richard Labeledz

"Mr. Labeledz is a welcome addition to the Fine & Performing Arts Department at Newton North. We are thrilled to have Mr. Labeledz on board. He demonstrates all it means to be a North educator. Welcome aboard Mr. Labeledz!" - Todd Young, Fine & Performing Arts Dept. Head

Q: Where did you attend college?

R.L.: University of Colorado-MA, UMass Amherst-BA

Q: What is your favorite thing about teaching music?

R.L.: The experience of teaching music ensembles in an arts program encompasses a wealth of interactions and connections that go far beyond the classroom.

Q: What do you like about NNHS?

R.L.: What I like about teaching at NNHS is that I have the privilege of doing what I love to do each and every day and get to do that in the most supportive environment imaginable.

Left: Junior Pamela Chen created this self-portrait.

What do you like most about the arts department?

"If I had to choose one favorite thing about making art it would be the reaction of the subject seeing it when i'm done."

-Monica Reuman,
senior

"I like photo because the environment lets me be creative beyond the limits I had before."

CAREER & TECH. ED

"The atmosphere of working in the Tiger's Loft is great. We all look out for each other."
-Adrianna Quintiliani
senior

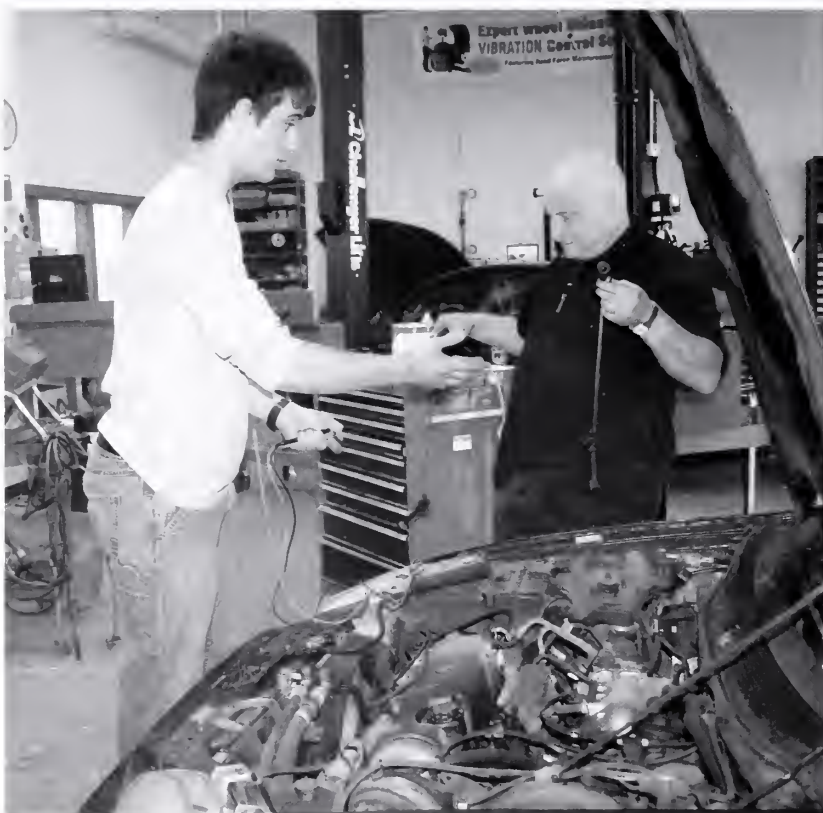

"I take honors Engineering--it's a class where students can create their own curriculum and develop their skills."
-Derek Goldstone,
senior

We are very lucky here at North because of all the teachers and faculty that can't wait for us to succeed in life. Career and technical education classes help students get a jump start on learning about the careers that they plan to pursue later in life.

This department includes classes in carpentry, graphics communications, visual design, culinary, engineering, child development, Greengineering, and auto mechanics. Freshmen typically take exploratory courses to begin their studies, then can decide to take the course at a major level in the following years.

Students who choose to major in a career course spend 12 to 15 blocks every week immersed in their work. They spend the majority of the school day doing what they like to do. Major students in the career and tech ed department get to share their work with the community; students in the Tiger's Loft prepare food for the public, and posters from Graphics students can be seen all over school.

What's do you like about career and tech. ed?

"I enjoy Graphics because it's a merger of the business and art world."

-Josh Brooks,
senior

"I like auto because it provides a real world application of knowledge."

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

"Wellness Activities with Mr. Bower. I enjoyed the meditation unit and trip to Bullough's Pond."

-Alex D'Agostino, senior

"I liked freshman P.E. because we were able to compete in badminton tournaments, and my team won it all!"

-Meg Altieri, senior

Freshmen at Newton North are required to take both Sexuality and Health and freshman core P.E. to complete their P.E. requirements. Then once we reach sophomore year, we can choose from a variety of courses to fulfill these requirements.

Options in the P.E. department include Personal Fitness, a course in which students learn about working out in the fitness center; Lifeguarding, where students train to be certified as lifeguards; Wellness Activities, where we are taught yoga, meditation, and stress-relieving techniques; and Team Sports, where students work together and play different sports.

In addition to a variety of options for classes, the southern wing of our building is also home to the extensive athletic department. Track, soccer and basketball are among our school's strongest teams, but the home of the Tigers also include some unusual sports, such as Ultimate Frisbee and Quidditch. The coaches and faculty in the athletic department are there to get us into the sports game safely and successfully.

Q: Where did you go to college?
E.H.: Fairfield University.

Q: What do you like about North?
E.H.: The enthusiasm for success.

Q: What do you like about the athletics dept.?
E.H.: Tiger Pride!

What was your favorite gym class?

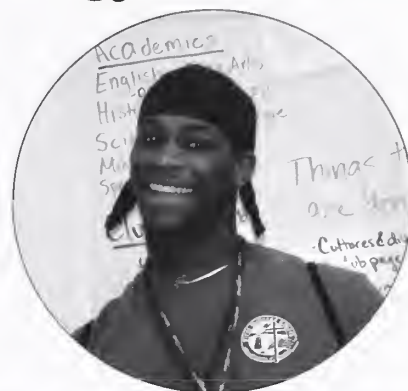

"I took Lifetime Activities, and I liked doing activities that I wouldn't normally do."

-D.J. Jordan, senior

"Team Sports was my favorite because I enjoyed working with others."

SPECIAL EDUCATION

Ourschooloffersmanyprogramsdedicatedtostudents who need specialized attention to help them succeed in school. Through programs such as EDCO, Pilot, Links, Connections, Peer Tutoring and academic support students are supported in their learning needs.

We have a renowned program sponsored by the EDCO Collaborative for students who are deaf and hard of hearing. Our program is the oldest secondary program in the state. Students are offered an opportunity to learn in self contained and integrated class settings. Students and teachers come from across the state to participate.

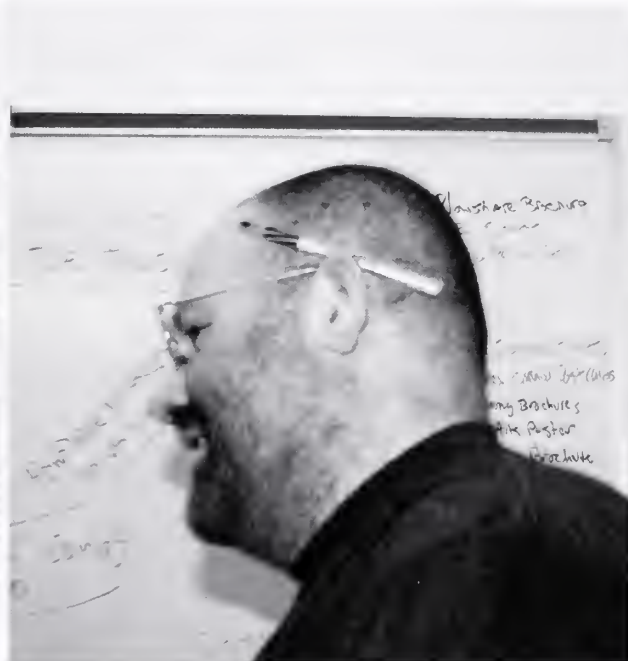

The Pilot and Links programs help students who need to learn in a more focused environment. We also have academic support classes, where students can go and meet with a teacher to help them study and work on homework as well as academic and personal goals. Juniors and seniors can also help fellow students through the Peer Tutoring program and tutor an underclassman who is struggling in a certain area.

Publications

Thoughtprints

Thoughtprints is Newton North's student-run, student-produced arts and literary publication. Our members meet on Sunday nights and during homeroom to select and compile the best representations of North's artistic talent into an annual magazine, calendar, and CD.

Advisor: Neil Giordano

Editors-in-Chief: Kara Cochran and Ilana Cohen

Newtonian

The Newtonian yearbook, currently in its 101st volume, works throughout the year to capture events and memories that will be remembered for years to come.

Advisor: Amanda Mazzola

Editors: Allie Greenberg, Melissa Jewett, Nathane Lamas, Kate Lewis, Olivia Martins, Tamara Matama, Sarah Mead, Ana Mijailovic, Sanne Posno

Newtonite

The Newtonite is a school paper that provides the school community with information about things going on at the school. Students on the paper have a variety of jobs, from journalistic roles to managing the business side. The paper, established in 1922, is currently in its 90th volume.

Advisor: Kate Shaughnessy

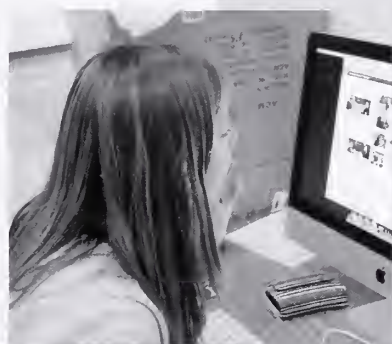

Editors-in-Chief: Marena Cole and Eli Davidow

Tiger Magazine

Tiger Magazine is an entirely student-produced television news magazine show, which airs on Newton's cable access station. The goal is to produce one issue a month with of short segments.

Advisors: Neil Giordano and Amanda Mazzola

Left to right: Ilana Cohen, a senior, checks the Thoughtprints folder for submissions. Senior Olivia Martins works on her spread for the yearbook. Freshman Philip Rubin and senior Caleb Gannon prepare the new issue of the Newtonite for circulation. Yonah Rosman, a senior, edits a video for Tiger Magazine.

Academics

Model United Nations

Model UN is a simulation of the United Nations, in which students represent nations and debate relevant issues. Through Model UN, we hope to learn about current affairs and international relations, and how to solve them. In addition to Model UN in school, we go to several conferences, where we represent a nation as a whole in several different committees. Talk nerdy to me.

Officers: Gabe Dreyer, Simona Gilman, Rebecca Harris & Jared Kalow

Advisor: Gregory Drake

Science Team

We just have a lot of fun building stuff, preparing for competitions, and learning about subjects that aren't necessarily taught in school. Also, we want to "pwn them noobz."

Officers: Helen Gao & Patrick Triest

Advisor: Barbara Gibson

Mock Trial

Mock Trial competes in mock trials against other schools in the area. We will get a case, and using it, plan an entire defense and prosecution. Then we go to trial! If we do well, we can even make it to the State Tournament! It's a really fun and exciting way to get some law experience, and some drama, in your spare time.

Officer: Michael Dinsmore

Advisor: David Hawkins

Philosophy Club

Questioning, doubting, wondering, Knowing, not-knowing, pondering: This is Philosophy Club, we think.

Officers: Maddie MacWilliams & Jimmy Sbordone

Poetry Club

Poetry Club is on a mission to achieve immortality.

We will stop at NOTHING to get there...

Except during X-Block when we stop

To talk, laugh, write and share poems.

Officers: Maddie MacWilliams & Rebecca Reed
Advisor: Adam Carpenter

Math Team

At math team we prepare for the challenging math problems we have to solve in competitions by studying mathematical concepts and practicing problem solving. This year has been one of the strongest years in our school's history, standing second place at Greater Boston Mathematics League.

Officer: Dong-Gil Shin
Advisor: Elisse Ghitelman

Debate Team

The Debate Team meets twice a week to hold in-house debates, collaborate on cases, brainstorm, or just argue. We attend tournaments on Saturdays and aim to take down South.

Officers: Jordan Ecker & Abby Holtzman
Advisor: Susan Wilkins

Ligerbots

The Ligerbots is a FIRST robotics team that competes annually against other teams world-wide to see who can build the best robot from scratch in six weeks. The competition game changes each year, but the deadline and excitement never waver. This year, we are building a robot to pick up differently shaped inflatable tubes to put on standing pegs.

Officers: Paige Grody & Clarence Wong
Advisors: Phil Golando, Deborah Lund & Scott Rosenhahn

Creative Writing Club

The Creative Writing Club is a close, comfortable environment where members can feel free to share their work, play writing games, explore creative prompts, or just talk about books and writing goals. Intended as a respite from traditional English class, the club tries to foster a sense of community and an appreciation for punctuation.

Officer: Abby Holtzman
Advisor: Maureen Kavanaugh

Art Club

Art Club helps students learn new techniques of art. Members of Art Club experiment with new materials to create unique masterpieces. Most of the projects are made as a group. This club is for students looking to get more art experience.

Community Service & Activism

50 Cents to Save a Life

Officers: Diana Seldin & Kayla Wong
Advisor: Nick Grant

More than one billion people around the world have been affected by neglected tropical disease. We have been raising money for a campaign in which 50 cents or the sale of a candy bar can vaccinate someone and save their life. What's 50 cents worth to you?

Orange Shield

Officers: Maria Brandi & Tiffany Leung
Advisor: Michael Hazeltine

Orange Shield is a club that is focused on community service. We help out at Back to School Night and at parent-teacher conferences. We do walks for various charities and we raise money to send charities that are doing a lot of work at that moment.

Gay-Straight Alliance

Officer: Madeleine Aquilina & Yaelle Sarid-Segal
Advisor: Janice Lichtman

The GSA is dedicated to creating a community of GLTBQ students and their allies to discuss issues of gender and sexuality. We also strive to work towards a more accepting school environment by organizing several days of action and education during the year.

Team P.A.C.T.

Officers: Nathane Lamas & Tiffany Chen
Advisor: Brian Gagne

In this club, we work as a group to come up with fundraising ideas to donate to cancer funds such as the Jimmy Fund and the American Cancer Society. In the past, we've done bake sales and holiday arts and crafts. We try to do a fundraiser every month.

Friday Afternoon Culture Society

At FACS, students can enjoy a new episode of The Office and a slice of pizza. It's a great time to relax and be with friends at the end of a busy week. We make the hipsters fall in love. We are Friday Afternoon Culture Society.

Forte is Newton North's all-girl cappella group. We perform in multiple concerts within Newton North and outside of the school. We meet on Sunday nights to sing and have a lot of fun.

We compete in several science competitions each year. At Club, we spend time each week doing public forums, singing a cappella, mocking trials, and playing Quidditch. We also dabble in Asian culture.

Melocotones is a co-ed cappella group. This group was created to give opportunities for those who love to sing. It is also a chance for students to become more involved with the theater department.

Northern Lights is a student run, co-ed cappella group that rehearses weekly. The group performs at community and school events around Newton throughout the year.

The Badminton Club aims to compete against other schools with almost monthly tournaments. We play against local high schools that also have a club. Players can come by and compete, or learn the basics about how to play the game.

The goal of DotA Club is to provide a place for the gaming community at North to go. Before DotA Club there was no PC gaming presence at North. DotA Club got support from North and has given a place for gamers to gather and play.

Quidditch is a real-life version of the fictional game played in the Harry Potter series. Our team is more focused on enjoying the game than it is on athletic ability, but the team attracts athletes and Harry Potter geeks alike.

The Ski & Snowboard Club takes two weekend trips every winter, open to anyone who is interested in hitting the slopes for fun. This year, the club went on trips to Sunday River and Killington.

Performing Arts

Cultures and Diversity

Asian Culture Club

ACC functions to raise awareness about Asian and Asian-American cultures within and surrounding the Newton North community. It holds a few events each year, such as Asian Culture Day and Asian Culture Night. It's also a place where students can meet new people and just hang out.

Officers: Naweed Azad, Bonnie Chen, Young Guang & Rebecca Jereza

Advisors: Charlene Beh & Michele Leong

Black Leadership Advisory Council

The B.L.A.C. club at Newton North focuses on the well-being of African-American students. It creates a safe environment for black students to discuss problems and also to celebrate the good. The club welcomes all allies to come and help execute ideas to stop stereotyping and other projects such as community service.

Officers: Robyn Estwick, Monica McKenzie, Michela Meaney & Bethy Solomon

Advisor: Kim Parker

Italian Club

The Italian club is a club that focused on Italian culture. The goal of our club is to explore Italian culture and to try to get a feel for the culture. We make Italian food, watch Italian movies, play Italian card games, and go to the North End at the end of the year.

Officers: Nadia Antonellis, Natasha Antonellis & Maria Brandi

Advisor: Maria Procopio

Jewish Student Union

At JSU, teens debate real life issues, learn about Jewish ethics, and experience Israel advocacy and culture on their own terms. Meetings consist of doing fun activities & engaging with inspiring speakers on a variety of topics, not all related to Judaism or Israel. It is not necessary to be Jewish to be a member.

Officers: Simona Gilman & Jake Maman

Advisor: Tatyana Osipenko

French Club

We try and spread appreciation of French culture, especially to people who don't necessarily take French as a class, through French films, food, and the occasional group outing to places like the Museum of Fine Arts.

Officers: Helen Gao & Jocie Sobieraj

Advisor: Alieu Jobe

French Film Club

In this club, students who love movies and/or French culture can come to enjoy a variety of French films such as Amèlie, À bout de souffle, and Pierrot le Feu. French New Wave, classics, and many more films are featured with lots of fun and good times!

Officers: Rachel Adelsheim & Maddy Parmenter

Advisor: Suzanne Putzeys

Spanish Club

The purpose of the club is to provide teens an opportunity to speak Spanish and to increase their knowledge of the Spanish-speaking world. We watch movies, play games, go on field trips, eat cultural foods, and give homework help!

Officers: Sindi Nune, Monica Reuman & Lilly Xian

Advisors: Nancy Marrinucci & Jose Sancho

Younglife

Younglife is a world-wide group that is focused on showing God's love to teens in their own environment. Before this year, there had been a Younglife group in Newton for over 5 years, but we have never had a club within Newton North. Our goal is to share God's love with students at Newton North.

All the world's a stage for the actors, singers and dancers here at Newton North. But you don't have to be in a show to be in a show; costumes, props and sets are just as much a part of the performance as the lead actors. Be it backstage or in the spotlight, Newton North's hardworking performers never fail to entertain the crowd.

Fortune Teller.....Anna Nemetz
Mr. Fitzpatrick.....Ezra Dulit-Greenberg
Mr. Tremayne.....Chris D'Agostino
Mr. Muse/Convener/Fred Bailey.....Sam Raby

A Note from the Directors

Although it calls to our attention many of the human race's major flaws, The Skin of Our Teeth is not a pessimistic play; it is the opposite. It celebrates our ability to persevere in spite of those flaws, and to start up again even when they seem to have triumphed. It highlights the dangers of progress--such as Social Darwinism and large scale violence--but it also shows the wonders of moving forward, which include literature, science, philosophy, art, and innovation. The Antrobuses lead ridiculous lives in an absurd world, as do we--and like the Antrobuses, we are capable of repairing, rebuilding, and bringing beauty to the planet.

As Mr. Antrobus says, "We've learned. We're learning. And the steps of our journey are marked for us here."

-Aviva Galpert and Edan Laniado

Top to bottom, left to right: Senior Linda Bard as Mrs. Antrobus reacts angrily. Sophomore Madeline Murphy, playing the housemaid Sabina, shows her disgust. Mrs. Antrobus comforts her son Henry, played by junior Sam Bell-Gurwitz. Junior Caleb Bromberg and sophomore Eliza Burr, playing Mr. Antrobus and his daughter Gladys, share an embrace. Freshman Will Champion, as the announcer, comments on the action of the play. The full cast and the directors pose for a group photo.

Eurydice

By Sarah Ruhl

Cast:

Eurydice.....Rosie McInnes
 Orpheus.....Charlie Beers
 Father.....Skylar Fox
 A Nasty Interesting Man/
 Lord of the Underworld.....Justin Phillips
 Big Stone.....Amanda King
 Loud Stone.....Emily Clott
 Little Stone.....Lior Percher

A Note from the Directors:

You can probably guess many of the reasons we fell in love with Eurydice: the play is poetic, funny, unusual, touching. One reason that you might not guess: it has beautiful stage directions. A few examples:

"Eurydice opens her suitcase. She is surprised that nothing is inside. She sits down inside her suitcase."

"Raspberries, peaches and plums drop from the ceiling into the River. Perhaps only in our imagination."

"They begin walking away from each other, on extensive unseen boardwalks, their figures long shadows, looking straight ahead."

And of course:

"The father creates a room out of string for Eurydice. He makes four walls and a door out of string. Time passes. It takes time to build a room out of string."

-Derek Butterson and Mercer Gary

Freshman Cabaret

Top to bottom, left to right: The cast of 69 freshmen and their directors smile for a group photo. Alex Shames listens to his father, played by Adrian Butterson, give him advice. The boys of "Frosh Cab" show off their cool moves. Jenny Cronin, Jason Lob, Shani Yavin and Isabel Rivero sing to end Act One.

UNDER MILK WOOD

BY DYLAN THOMAS

A Note from the Director

Under Milk Wood is a beautiful play--Dylan Thomas wrote it as a response to the bombing of Hiroshima to prove that beauty still existed in the world. His simple characters (all 75 of them) lived only in words, in the form of a radio play; his poetic language was all the more important to the listeners sitting in their homes, creating their own visual story from Thomas's vivid imagery.

What we have done with Under Milk Wood is create a physical world for these characters to inhabit--Llareggub, a Welsh fishing village brimming with ordinary life. Working as an ensemble, the actors made this show their own; they have done a fantastic job getting to know each character and indulging every moment in one spring day, from dreams to reality and back to dreams again.

Top to bottom, left to right: No-Good Boyo, played by freshman Dan Minahan, causes trouble in the wash house. Sophomore Indigo Asim, as Mary Ann Sailors, delivers an ode to the Garden of Eden. Sophomore Jack Reibstein waxes poetic as Reverend Jenkins. Mae Rose Cottage, played by senior Kate Lewis, wishes for love. Willy-Nilly the postman, played by freshman Ezra Dulit-Greenberg, completes his rounds. Freshman Bethany Lehman plays Polly Garter, a young mother. The cast poses for a picture on the set. Mrs. Ogmores-Pritchard, played by junior Emma Weisberg, is visited by her dead husbands, played by freshman Will Champion and sophomore Jonny Cohen. Mog Edwards and Myfanwy Price, played by sophomore Sam Raby and senior Mercer Gary, express their love. Captain Cat, played by senior Philip Halin, sees Rosie Probert, played by senior Rosie McInnes, in his dream. Senior Aviva Galpert and freshman Simon Wolfe, as Mr. and Mrs. Pugh, observe a scene.

Curtains

A Note from the Director:

It has been a pleasure working on this show with the students. I am consistently overwhelmed by the love for and wisdom about theatre the students here at Newton North have, and this can only be instilled in them by the passion and dedication of all the adult role models that they have here in the theatre department at North. It has been a pleasure of mine to get to know everyone here since 2005, when I directed and choreographed Chicago.

Thank you for all of your patience and participation throughout this long rehearsal process—a process that may have sent the actors home exhausted, but hopefully satisfied and nourished by working on their craft through this particular vehicle of storytelling. Without your support and help, this production never could have happened.

So, please sit back, relax, get ready to laugh, and see if you can figure out Who Dun It?

Hamlet

A Note from the Director:

I am thrilled to be directing Hamlet with Newton North and South High Schools. I have a long history with this particular play as an artist and am particularly excited to be approaching it as a director for the first time. Hamlet (both the character and the play) possesses an infinite variety of interpretations--that's one of the reasons many of us love it so much. I am looking forward to collaborating with the cast and student designers to create a contemporary, riveting, and unexpected portrayal of this story.

A Note from the Directors:

With a stunning book by James Lapine and a brilliant score by Stephen Sondheim, this Tony- and Pulitzer Prize-winning work is a masterpiece of modern musical theatre. Inspired by one of the most iconic paintings of all time – Georges Seurat's "Sunday Afternoon on the Island of La Grande Jatte" – "Sunday" explores essential questions of connection, progress, and the power of creation. Act One, set in 1880s Paris, follows Seurat's life as he struggles to create his masterwork. In Act Two, set more than a hundred years later, George's great-grandson, also an artist, faces similar challenges and looks to the past to find what it takes to "move on."

Behind the Scenes

"You don't have to be in a show to be in a show!"

Costumes Coordinator

"If I were to list exactly what I do for each show, it would be longer than the entire yearbook is. HARDER. BETTER. FASTER. STRONGER. COSTUMES."

-Anna Gargas, senior

Costume coordinator Anna Gargas, a senior, works on a costume for Eurydice.

Stage Managers

"I love stage managing because I love seeing everything come together!"

-Mira Netsky, junior

Senior Eleana Gudema and junior Mira Netsky create a schedule as a part of their job as stage managers for Curtains.

Student Producer Coordinators

"We teach students how to produce plays and ensure that everything runs smoothly."

-Anita Sodder, senior

Senior Anita Sodder and juniors Danielle Campbell and Katharine Norris, the student producer coordinators, handle the business side of each of Theatre Ink's productions.

Props Coordinator

"We serve as a resource for props masters looking for specific props: everything from large household appliances to stone wheels to fake cigarettes."

-John MacGaffey, senior

Props coordinator John MacGaffey, a senior, keeps the props storage room, or "trap," in working order.

Student Technical Directors & Stage Crew

"I oversee all of the work that gets done at stage crew. I am also responsible for teaching those that are younger than me in order to prepare them for next year."

-Kevin Zabrecky, senior

Ryan Donovan, a senior, waits on the sidelines during an intense football game.

Senior Cristina Leone and junior Hannah McGoldrick, members of the varsity lacrosse team, celebrate a victory.

Junior Meredith Abrams prepares to serve at volleyball match.

Senior Jack McLaughlin, a batter on the varsity baseball team, swings at the ball with incredible force.

Senior Ali Pappas, junior Alex Close and sophomore Anna Golin congratulate each other after a good game.

"George the Tiger," Newton North's amiable mascot, hypes up the crowd at the Athletic's Fall Preview pep rally.

determiNEd to Win

Newton North's many sports teams are always strong competitors: the athletes here are driven, fiercely dedicated and determined to win. Over the course of each season, students become teammates, and teammates become family, brought together by their common goal to defeat rivals and bring home another victory.

Cheerleading

This season for the Newton North cheerleaders was a memorable one. We both have never been on a team that has grown so close. Not only have we worked our butts off, but we did it with a smile. All of our hard work, sweat, and tears have made us a family and that is something that we are truly honored to have been a part of. Good luck next year ladies, we know you will be fierce. Just remember to keep your heads up and stay positive no matter what and all your hard work will be worth it. We love you ladies, you made our senior year of cheering. Thank you for everything, we will never forget you guys.

Love,

Boys' Soccer

"Better, Better, Better"

Our team really opened up the floodgates this year by ruining people's night, giving Jermain Defoe an early Christmas present, playing the lottery, and dotting our T's and crossing our I's. Not only did we show vast improvements from last year, but we managed to reach our high school career goal of making the tournament. In addition to our success on the field, we were successful in the becoming the largest clique of dumb blondes in the school. Thank you to all of our coaches and teammates for an unforgettable year.

Much Love,
Jeremy Gurvits and Gabe Paul

"Train To Win"

We've had an incredible last season with the twenty-five girls on the varsity soccer team. Toughing it through injuries and weather, we had an amazing fall, complete with a winning record and games in tournament. We had some great times at the team sleep over, countless team dinners, bus rides, and some pretty awesome hair dye. We wouldn't have wanted to spend these past three months with anyone else. We want to thank you girls for some incredible sheets, great memories, and for putting your heart in every single game. Thanks for the best season ever.

Golf

This year's golf season was a very successful season, along with a very enjoyable one. Not only were we very good, we also managed to have a great time every time we went to the course. The reason why we were so successful was because we had great team chemistry and we had a very loose attitude. The loose attitude, as anyone who plays the mentally demanding game knows, is very important. Everyday at practice was competitive since we had so much talent, and you couldn't have a bad day unless you lost your spot in the lineup. After the mentally demanding practices and matches we would go out to eat and enjoy ourselves. All in all we had a very successful season, beating undefeated Wellesley, and rivals Needham and Brookline, and ending with a record of 9-3. Thank you for a great season.

Field Hockey

This season was a year of firsts for our team: we added four boys to the team, had a winning season, which included beating Framingham (the number one team in our division). Two teammates, Alexandra Pappas (left back) and Julia Cuccurullo (goalie) made the all-star Bay State team. Part of our success is backed by the incredible friendships formed throughout the season. To the team: congrats for making it through long days at preseason, a ridiculous amounts of sprints, and for going to tournament!

Boys' Cross Country

From the sweltering heat of August, through the wind and rain of October, to the bone-chilling cold of November, the members of this year's NNHS Boys Cross Country team built friendships, strengthened team unity, and, of course, ran. From the top members of the Varsity squad to the first-time freshmen on Junior Varsity (aka v2), each teammate made this season full of laughs, camaraderie, and memorable experiences. A huge "Thank you!" goes out from the captains to everybody on the team for their dedication, their willingness to do work and the good (and painful) times we had. We're going to miss each and every one of you from the bottom of our hearts. Long live the Fish!

Girls' Cross Country

To all of our XC workout heroes:

From the moment preseason began under the hot August sun until our final days in chilly November, we are unified and became a family. Each and every member improved tremendously as a runner which, which was illustrated by the countless personal records achieved. Our team dinners and team bonding were always fun because of your kindness and constant energy. Whether during a run, workout, race, or while cheering from the sidelines, each girl supported and encouraged her fellow teammates and always maintained a positive attitude. Although we might not have had a perfect record, we couldn't have asked for a better season.

From the Captains:

Our team started and finished our season with competing at the highest level in the state. No question was our heart in every play in every game. Our final record was 15-1 and we also were Bay State Champions for the 6th year in a row and we had four Bay State All-Stars representing the black and orange. We made it to the Sectional semi-finals before our second loss of the season. Our team became a family from the hot days in August to the brisk days of November. All our consistent hard work was reflected in our level of play and performance. This season has truly been the best way to end our high school volleyball careers and we are so grateful for our teammates. Alana, Deanna, Caileigh, Micaela, and Meredith: thank you guys for everything and good luck next year!!

We love you guys,

Girls' Swim & Dive

We are so proud of the girls this year for making this a winning season. For defeating Wellesley in the first meet ever in the new pool, for making our last meet a victory, and, of course, for beating Brookline. And for being the most spirited team in the whole school. But most of all we're proud of you guys for being the most hardworking and dedicated, and supportive people we know. We're going to miss you all so much. GO TIGERS!

Thank you so much!

Boys' Basketball

This season was one of the most memorable of our career. Coming into the season, nobody knew what to expect. We were in a new school, had a bunch of new players on the team, and Tevin Falzon, our McDonald's All-American Nominee, was out for an extended period of time with a wrist injury. Despite the uncertainty, everybody on the team sacrificed everything for the team, and because of this we were able to have an incredibly successful season, playing in the TD Garden for the first time in a number of years. Though we may not have had the talent of some previous Newton North teams, our hard work and dedication allowed us to perform as well as we did.

We started off this season ranked fourth in the state and welcomed four freshman to the team. Struggling though all of the challenges and adversities that our program forced us to face, created an extremely strong and unified team. Our hard work became very visible as the season progressed. Our team pulled it all together just in time for tournament. We really enjoyed this season; the team and friends we made will stick with us forever.

A captain or coach couldn't ask for a better team. We did good for the time we had. Given more time we could've been a top contender in the league. I can't wait to come back in later years and see how amazing this team becomes as your experience grows. I know you can take this team to level of which even I could not reach. Keep up the tradition on beating South and bringing home medals. You guys are great! Thanks for an amazing last gymnastics season. It really means a lot for me and hopefully you all have the love and passion for this sport that I have acquired over my last four years here at North. I love you fam.

We couldn't have asked for a better season! We broke numerous records, and we even made it to sectionals--something Newton North Girls' Gymnastics has never done. The team keeps getting bigger and bigger every year, which is awesome because it just means our family is growing! All of the recurring injuries, the emergency room visits, the countless rolls of tape and bags of ice, the hard work, the laughs and the tears really ended up paying off. We are proud to be ending with such a fantastic season, and we are excited to see what else the team can do in seasons to come!

Girls' Indoor Track

What is it about this sport that makes us love it so much? It is most definitely not because of the muscle cramps we get at the end of tough races, nor is it the "Reggie" cough that lingers for days after every meet. We love track because we love this team. However individualistic a sport track and field may be, this team is a cohesive unit. We are a family, and a support system. When one of our runners runs a race, there are 30 of us to cheer her on. That is what makes us so powerful.

Our real successes this season were reflected in more than just our league championship titles, our victories at the Dartmouth Relays, and our state relay championship trophies. Our true accomplishments came in the form of hard work, ethics, teamwork, and good attitudes. The saying, "champions are made when no one is watching," really encompasses the spirit of every one of the girls on this team. Spending time in the weight room to jump higher or throw farther, staying at practice an extra half an hour later just to perfect a hand-off, or running an extra mile just to PR by a few seconds is what makes true champions. We feel honored to have represented this team alongside such hard-working athletes and friends. Thanks to our amazing coaches and to our dedicated team for making this such a memorable indoor season. We are extraordinarily proud of you, and we wish all of you luck in the seasons and years to come. Never forget to show your stripes, and remember... From east to west, the tigers are the best!

Dance Team

Our team had a very successful season. We can't measure that hard work through the amount of wins we get; but we saw it everyday in practices and throughout our performances. We couldn't have asked for a more tightly knit team. We bonded instantly and became a big family. We started the season off with girls from many different backgrounds and styles of dance. But with hard work and dedication we were able to finish off our season strong and united. It's going to be hard leaving the team we helped build behind. We love you girls, keep dancing, and don't forget to THROW THE TOWEL IN!

Nordic & Alpine Skiing

This past season with the Newton North Varsity Cross Country Ski team started slowly with a range of experience; some skiers having raced for years, while many others had never skied before. But, with strong team-cohesion and the help of our incredible coaches, Sarah Holton and Ari Ofsevit, the team grew in talent, skill, and success. Both the boys' and girls' teams placed second overall within the Mass Bay East league, and the girls' team beat number one seed Dover Sherborn in a league race, breaking their multi-year undefeated streak. We loved the countless team dinners, games of lap tag, practices, and maybe even all those Mount Weston repeats. From the first day of dry-land, all the way up till the Stowe Derby, and skiing uphill in sub 10 degree weather in between, this was an incredible season.

Love,
Captains Amy Lu and Ellen Goldberg

The Alpine Ski team was fortunate enough to have one of the most intense winters of snow accumulation in many years. The conditions on the mountain were superb and the team performed admirably in each of our meets. The seniors know they are leaving the program in good hands as the underclassmen continue the hard work they displayed this season and go on to hone their racing skills.
-Myles Kamisher-Koch

Boys' Lacrosse

My expectations for our season are high. The team is very dedicated to the game and will require contributions from all years, not exclusively upperclassmen. This means that a lot of inexperienced players will have to step up and perform, and upperclassmen must lead through example. I am confident that if we manage to come together as a team and refine our skills and strength, we will be successful this year.

Through hard work, focus, and tons of tiger pride the brosephinas are looking to come into the season with a full force of ripping twine, pipe cities, and strong team chemistry. With a high commitment level and passion for the game the laxers wish to have an unforgettable season. We would like to thank our coaches for teaching us how to stay fresh, rip cheddar, and for inspiring us to work hard everyday. Also shout out to our team managers for keeping us quenched with water, strictly from Nalgenes.

Baseball

This year's baseball season was great. We had a great group of athletes that loved the game and loved to come to practice to work. Every day we showed up to play and showed up to have fun. Like every team we had some injuries, but that did not effect how we were going to play as a team. Every player that needed to step up did, and played their hearts out during the game. During pre-season, the team was working out three times a week, getting ready and getting the rust out. As the season went on the team grew emotionally, physically, and mentally. We became more competitive as a whole. And we showed mental toughness day in or day out. This year was a fun year and we are proud of how we played this year.

- Jack McLaughlin and Danny Anderson

Softball

Even before opening day, we can predict that 2011 softball season will be a season of glory and triumph. This is apparent thorough the teams dedication, passion, and belief that we can go as far as we went as long as we give each pitch, each throw, each pop-up our all. We seniors have been playing together for years so we really want to make our last year memorable. This is the year to play our hearts out and leave it all on the field.

-Seniors: Ali, Corrine, Emma, Jazmin, Meghan, and Rachel

Top left: Senior Ali Pappas waits for the pitch. Top right: Senior Corrine Beatrice makes a catch. Middle left: Junior Katie Caruso scoops up the ball. Middle upper right: The team huddles up before the game. Middle right: Senior Meghan Pursley gets ready to swing. Bottom left: Senior Emma Mahoney watches the game intensely. Bottom center: Senior Jazmin Brito gets ready to bat. Bottom right: Seniors Ali Pappas, Jazmin Brito, Emma Mahoney, and Meghan Pursley cheer on their teammates.

Boys' Tennis

We have a strong team this year. We're going to be focusing on strengthening our physical and mental games and we hope to make the state tournament.

Captain Eric Krasnow

Girls' Tennis

We had another incredible season this year and I couldn't have asked for a better group of girls to break in those new courts with. All the members of the team showed improvement from the previous years. Being able to work on the new courts, made our practices easier and more efficient, ultimately leading to our overall gain as a team. Everyone worked hard and showed that we're able to come together as a team. Everyone worked hard and showed that we're able to come together not only as a team but as a family. Thanks for a great season!

- Captain Emily Kelly

Boys' Outdoor Track

Through the cold of March, into the heat of May and June the boy's outdoor track team simply does work. This season we have something to prove to the state along with all the necessary skills and talent to accomplish our goal. The dedication of every member on the team are the reason for our success, and our hopes for this season will reflect our determination.

-Isaiah Penn, Ryan Donovan, Dan Ranti, Tylor Hart

Girls' Outdoor Track

Many people perceive track as a group of crazed students running in circles in a semi-organized fashion. This is not all true. Track, in truth, is Easter egg hunts, ice-cream practices, binge carbo-loading, and girls sprinting around the school, searching for a black and orange shoelace. It is listening to long-winded sarcasm and strange metaphors before and after races, keeping tally of hugs from a certain coach, and expecting to lose your voice every single meet. We cry in joy and frustration, compare our cuts and bruises, and will do anything for a PR, whether or not we win.

Track takes talent, intellect, determination, and courage to succeed, all of which our wonderful teammates possess. You girls have worked so hard this past season, and we couldn't be more proud to be part of this incredible legacy. Thanks for a phenomenal spring.

Love,
Amy Ren, Margo Gillis and Ellen Goldberg

Middle, left to right: Junior Sarah Perlo competes in a race. Senior Amy Ren attacks the hurdles. Juniors Maggie Heffernan and Rebecca Trayner. Sophomore Carla Forbes lands in the long jump. Bottom left: Senior Megan Gentile hurls the shot put. Bottom center: Kayla Wong and Kayla Prior tag each other in a relay race. Bottom right: Junior Stephanie Brown heads for the finish line.

Boys' Volleyball

The 2011 volleyball team has proven to be one of Newton North's most prosperous teams. With Luke Westman and Nick Link carrying the team on their back, we are hoping to win the Bay state league and are aiming for a state championship. Losing 4 crucial players from last year we were worried we would not fill up the ten player lineup. But with new skill and fresh talent we have filled the deficient and have proven to be a more skilled and talented team than last year. Michael Thorpe will be the hitting factor of the team, as Zach Knotts will be the deity of passing. With Richard leading the team we don't think there is anything that can stop us.

2011 Captains

-Zach Knotts, Nick Link, Matt Laredo, Marcus Parker and Mike Barbone

Ultimate Frisbee

Ultimate Frisbee is a sport like no other. Players referee themselves even at the highest level of play, and each and every member of the ultimate community shares a true passion for the sport. The NNHS Ultimate team is as competitive as any other team in the school, but having fun is always a priority. During the spring season, the team competes against other schools with squads of varying experience and aptitude both in and out of state. Because not everyone is an expert, the team is divided into two sub-teams; an A-team (comparable to Varsity), for more advanced players who want to compete at a high level, and a B-team (JV), for newer players to learn and develop their basic skills. Tryouts to determine the teams take place in early March, just before the spring season.

Dylan Wolff and Evan Zhang

Top left: Senior Dylan Wolff and Junior Nick Roberts go for the frisbee. Top center: The team captains pose for a picture. Top upper right: Senior Dylan Wolff and Matt Kwan jump for the frisbee. Top right: Juniors Adam Kafka and Matt Kwan await a catch. Middle left: Senior Evan Zhang prepares to toss the frisbee. Middle center: The seniors take a break and pose for a picture. Bottom left: The team members watch the action. Bottom right: Junior Ron Michaely catches the disc.

Senior Marisa DiDino dances in a ballet recital for Step By Step Dance Studio.

Junior Lida Richardson, senior Philip Halin and juniors Sam Bell-Gurwitz and Graham Techler play an intense round of Spore.

Emily Gulotta, a senior, and Jacob Schwartz, a sophomore, take a picture in the Newtonite office.

Seniors David Gore and Simona Gilman stop to catch up for a minute on the way home.

around the town

You've made it to graduation and you're finally moving on to college, work, traveling abroad, or wherever your future plans take you. But wherever you end up in the future, you can't forget the people who got you this far, the individuals around the town who have been there to support you and your class for all of these years.

In honor of Adam Michael Spivak London friend, brother, son, teammate

I promise:

1. Never ride in a car without using a seatbelt.
2. Never to drive too fast, because where I'm going will be there, whether I'm 5 minutes early or fifty minutes late.
3. Never to drive after drinking, even the smallest amount, because I cannot understand how impaired I may be.
4. Never to drive after putting anything in my body that may limit my ability to think, understand and react.
5. Never to text while I drive, because the message is never more important than my life.
6. And, perhaps hardest of all, to stop my friends when they try to do any of the above. Take away their keys; call their parents; call a cab; wrestle them to the ground, if necessary. Whatever it takes.

These things WE promise you, Adam.

We Carry Your Heart With Us

Newton North High School Swim Team 2010-2011

We applaud your hard work and your team spirit. Your tireless efforts helped you improve and grow both individually and as a team. It was evident to all who watched you week after week that it was your own self-motivation and perseverance that sustained you across the entire season. Such drive was a joy to witness. It was particularly impressive the way you held your heads high and continued to compete hard even when the going got tough. You conducted yourselves with poise, and you approached your practices and your meets equally with determination and focus. You exhibited both mental and physical toughness all season, and your friends and families want you to know how very proud we are of you for all you have accomplished as swimmers and captains during your time at Newton North. You joined the team as boys, and you are leaving as young men, and how very fine you are! Remember always that success is as much a part of the effort as it is of the result.

Our hats are off to you!

Working on this yearbook with you guys has been an amazing experience. I'm going to miss coming to the room and telling our life stories to each other. I love each of you and will miss you next year! Good Luck!! And Amanda, thanks for everything, working for you as been amazing. Congratulations ladies!!

- Love Melissa Jewett

"I had such an amazing time working with everyone on the yearbook this year. We had some stressful weeks and long nights, but we always managed to get everything done. The yearbook turned out really great and it's all thanks to you guys. Thank you so much for dedicating the time and energy to make it so great. I will miss you all." - Sanne Posno

"It's been amazing working on the yearbook with all of you! We've had some crazy days and hectic nights, but we got through all of them. I loved being able to go to the yearbook room and finding at least one of us in there playing Jason Aldean or Trey Songz on Pandora. Congratulations on creating an amazing yearbook!"

-Nathane Lamas

"To my devoted fellow staffers, thank you so much for your dedication and commitment to the Newtonian. A lot of you came without any prior experience in publications, but you were all willing to learn and try something new. Together, we created a special memento that people will look back on for years to come.

To the class of 2011: it's been a great four years together and I'm so proud to be graduating with you. Best of luck in the future--I'm sure you all will do incredible things!" - Kate Lewis

Messages from the Editors

"I had a great time working on this yearbook. It has been such an experience! We have gone through many tough deadlines and many many late nights. Thanks to Olivia for making our section so great. Congrats to all the editors, I loved working with you all. Enjoy, class of 2011, we deserve it." - Sarah Mead

"I have had an amazing time this year working with all of you!! You have each helped me in a tremendous ways to get through the major deadlines. I have been stressed out at times, but there was always a co-editor ready to help me out. Thank you so much for your hard work in creating an incredible yearbook, that I know will never be forgotten!" - Olivia Martins

"Congratulations editors on the completion of this yearbook. I had a blast working with you guys, even if we missed some deadlines and sometimes wanted to rip each other's heads off. We learned to work with each other which in the end produced this amazing yearbook. I say amazing yearbook because with all the hard work and time devoted, THIS YEARBOOK IS AMAZING." - Tamra Matama

"We were new to yearbook this year and had no experience with any sort of publication. Regardless we were welcomed like we had been a part of the Newtonian since freshman year. From taking pictures to designing spreads, working on the Newtonian was enjoyable even through the stressful parts. We're glad we spontaneously decided to join the publication and tried something different for our senior year."

- Allie Greenberg & Ana Mijailovic

Ladies -

I can't believe we finished the 2011 NEWtonian yearbook! We might have been a few days, weeks and months late on deadlines, but we got it done. Your dedication and willingness to learn has been a pleasure to watch. Thanks for the laughs, the pandora music stations, photo booth pictures, and letting me get to know each of you. I have to admit, I was worried that this year was going to be a disaster as you we're all new to me, except for Kate, but you quickly showed me that we'd get along just fine.

Room 275 will always be your home away from home, your place to hangout, listen to country music and Trey Songz, watch Glee and Pretty Little Liars, place to do homework five minutes before its due, hide from people you don't want to see. Please come back and visit.

- Amanda Mazzola

tigers' same old

For everyone else, this year will be known as the year that the new Newton North opened; for us, it will be the year that the boys' basketball team played at the TD Garden, the year that we beat Brookline on Thanksgiving back on home tuff, the year of memorable onstage performances and accomplishments in other organizations, the year that we finally ruled the school as seniors.

Soon, the "new school" may stop looking so new. The immaculate white walls of 457 Walnut Street will lose their shine. But we, the class of 2011, will always remember this school the way we found it; we will remember how we moved in and made this building ours without missing a single beat in our community's pulse.

We have experienced so much in our four years at Newton North and gained knowledge that will guide us wherever we go in the world.

Best of luck in the future, and never forget that no matter what the building looks like or what the address is, you will always have a home here at Newton North.
